WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Established as far back as 1994, The Grog & Gruel is a tongue-in-cheek name to reflect the relaxed and informal atmosphere of our traditional alehouse & restaurant. Don't take our name too literally though. We've moved on a long way from the days of sailor's rum punch and watery oatmeal porridge.

OUR ALEHOUSE

In our downstairs alehouse, you'll find the largest range of specialist cask conditioned ales in town. Without pasteurisation, and without adding artificial carbon dioxide, these beers retain the complex and delicate flavours the brewers work so hard to produce in the first place. Think of it as draught beer the way it used to be made, but with the added advantage of modern technology to keep it at just the right temperature as it makes its way from our cellar to the glass.

The beers are usually selected from the growing range of small independent brewers located all over Scotland, though naturally the majority tend to be located in the Highlands and Islands.

We're also rather proud of our steadily growing whisky selection, and at times now stock over 100 different malts reflecting the diverse range of tastes to be found all over Scotland. Why not sample the "Ben Nevis Single Malt" before making your visit to the distillery right here in Fort William.

CASK CONDITIONED ALES

Given we are regularly listed in the CAMRA (Campaign for Real Ale) Good Beer Guide, and we are also proud to be Les Routiers "Real Ale Pub of the Year 2005", it's perhaps not surprising we offer not just one but a range of traditional cask conditioned beers or "real ales".

It seems that not a year goes by when at least one new micro-brewery opens in Scotland, and that means we have an ever-growing list of beers to choose from. Our range is always changing, even over the course of the night, so please ask for the current selection. If you're lucky, you may have as many as eight to choose from. The list below shows just some of the breweries, and just some of the beers, we may have tonight. The range is a bit like the weather in these parts. If you don't like it, wait. It will soon change!

Williams Brothers Brewing Company - Alloa

Bruce and Scott Williams are no newcomers to brewing, having brought us numerous beers over the years. The most popular and famous is the Fraoch Heather Ale, and yes, it really is made from the tips of flowering heather! You may also want to watch out for Kelpie, a dark brew with bladderwrack seaweed included in the mash. Don't worry though, they may be "a bit different", but not too different!

Fraoch Heather Ale (ABV 4.1%)

A fine floral aroma with a spicy taste.

Ebulum (ABV 6.5%)

A rich elderberry black ale with fruit aroma, silky soft texture and a gentle finish.

Williams 80/- (ABV 4.2%)

Lightly hopped, as is true to this style of beer, with fruity malt aromas.

Kelpie Seaweed Ale (ABV 4.4%)

A rich chocolate ale which has an aroma of fresh sea breeze and a distinctive malty texture.

Cairngorm Brewery - Aviemore

Another brewery formed from the merger of two well-known breweries, this time Tomintoul and Aviemore.

Trade Winds (ABV 4.3%)

CAMRA "Champion Speciality Beer of Britain" in 2004. And 2005. Oh, and 2006! Light gold in colour with a bouquet of fruit and citrus.

Nessie's Monster Mash (ABV 4.4%)

Predominantly malty with a warming finish.

Wildcat (ABV 5.1%)

A deep amber coloured ale with a complex malt and fruit flavour.

Isle of Skye Brewing Company - Uig, Isle of Skye

Established in 1995 and currently home to the only female brewer in Scotland.

Red Cuillin (ABV 4.2%)

Smooth, malty and slightly nutty.

Black Cuillin (ABV 4.5%)

A dark ale, brewed with rolled roast oatmeal and honey.

Young Pretender (ABV 4.0%)

A golden-hued, hoppy, refreshing ale of character and flavour.

Hebridean Gold (ABV 4.43%)

A distinctly different ale brewed with porridge oats.

An Teallach Brewery - Near Ullapool, Ross-shire

We've known Davy Orr for years. Before he stopped to concentrate on brewing, he was a fairly regular entertainer at our sister pub, the Clachaig Inn down in Glencoe. Fortunately his beers are much better than his jokes! Beers are now brewed at the family croft on the shores of Little Loch Broom.

An Teallach Ale (ABV 4.2%)

A sweetish pint in the Scottish 80/- tradition.

Crofters Pale Ale (ABV 4.2%)

A good quaffing golden ale.

Glenfinnan Brewery - Glenfinnan

One of the smaller and newer additions to the brewing scene, the brewery was set up in 2005 by 3 local former teachers.

The Standard Ale (ABV 4.2%)

A mid brown, well hopped (bitter) ale to commemorate Bonnie Prince Charlie raising the Jacobite Standard at Glenfinnan on 19 August 1745.

Glenfinnan Gold (ABV 4.0%)

The name "Gold Ale" reflects both its colour and the £4,000 (at the time) of gold which went missing near Glenfinnan during the Jacobite rebellion of 1745-1746.

Glenfinnan Dark Ale (ABV 5.2%)

Brewed at the end of the year for a more malty and less bitter flavour - with winter in mind.

Houston Brewing Company - Houston, Renfrewshire

Regularly produce "one-off" brews with suitably tongue-in-cheek names, but perhaps best known for their award winning Peters Well.

Peters Well (ABV 4.2%)

Golden coloured with a wonderful hoppy aroma.

Killellan (ABV 3.7%)

Golden coloured, clean, mellow and refreshing ale with a long zesty finish.

Traditional Scottish Ales - Stirling

A relatively new addition on the brewing scene, set up in what was once a torpedo factory.

Glencoe Wild Oat Stout (ABV 4.5%)

As dark, mysterious & interesting as the glen it's named after.

Ben Nevis (ABV 4.0%)

A traditional 80/- ale, with the sweetness typical of a Scottish heavy.

WHERE DOES IT COME FROM?

Beers and whiskies aren't the only products sourced from local and other Scottish suppliers.

The wild boar comes from several farms throughout Scotland. Previously it was exclusively from Boars of Beaulieu near Inverness, but between us here at the Grog & Gruel, and our other place, the Clachaig Inn down in Glencoe, we've pretty much exhausted all their supplies over the last two years! Venison comes from the Highlands, through again from several estates, and all our beef is Scottish. Bacon is dry cured and smoked by Letterfinlay, who also hand make all our sausages with natural skins.

Our black pudding is made by Charles Macleod family butchers on the Isle of Lewis, surely some of the few people to know as much about black puddings as Michael Palin's famous Ripping Yarns character Eric Olthwaite!

For haggis we've turned to another well known butcher, this time Macsween of Edinburgh. Trivia buffs may be interested to know that it is made in the world's first factory dedicated to haggis making alone.

OUR RESTAURANT

The restaurant offers a choice from imaginative and exciting dishes prepared fresh to order. We think dining out should be a fun experience, interesting, satisfying, and good value for money.

Our menus have withstood the test of time and have proved to be immensely popular. There's something for everyone, whether it's a freshly baked pizza, a monster-sized burger made from Scottish wild boar, or mouth-watering fajitas, finger-food for the adults.

With the introduction of our top-of-the range "bean-to-cup" coffee machine, we can now offer a range of coffee to finish your meal. Go for an espresso for that wee kick that you only get from a shot of caffeine, or sit back and relax with a creamy cappuccino.

But if for any reason you don't, we hope you'll tell us.

A NOTE ON ALLERGIES: Some of our menu items may contain nuts, seeds and other allergens. There is a small risk that tiny traces of these may be in any other dish or food served here. We understand the dangers to those with severe allergies. Please ask and we may be able to help you make an alternative choice.
